

Designer Relationship Worksheet

Define exactly what kind of open relationship works for both of you.
Because "open" means different things to different people.

Step 1: What Are We?

Each partner checks the style that resonates most. You can each pick different ones — that's the starting point for discussion.

Partner A

- ☐ Monogamish
Mostly monogamous, with occasional flexibility (e.g., threesomes, flirting)
- ☐ Swinger
Sexual experiences with others, usually together as a couple
- ☐ Poly-lite
Open to emotional connections, but the primary relationship comes first
- ☐ Fully Open
Both partners free to date and form relationships independently
- ☐ Don't Ask, Don't Tell

Partner B

- ☐ Monogamish
Mostly monogamous, with occasional flexibility
- ☐ Swinger
Sexual experiences with others, usually together
- ☐ Poly-lite
Open to emotional connections, primary relationship first
- ☐ Fully Open
Both free to date and form relationships independently
- ☐ Don't Ask, Don't Tell
Freedom to explore, no details shared

Freedom to explore, but no
details shared

Step 2: How Much Do We Share?

How much information do you want before and after experiences with others?

Partner A

Everything Before

Tell me your plans in advance

Everything After

Tell me what happened
afterward

Just the Basics

I want to know it
happened, not the
details

Don't Tell Me

I don't want to know
unless I ask

Partner B

Everything Before

Tell me your plans in
advance

Everything After

Tell me what happened
afterward

Just the Basics

I want to know it
happened, not the
details

Don't Tell Me

I don't want to know
unless I ask

Step 3: Physical Boundaries

Check everything that's on the table for your relationship. Both partners should fill this out.

Partner A

☐ Same room only

We play together, in the same
space

☐ Separate rooms

Okay to be in different rooms at the same venue

☐ Solo dates allowed

Partner B

☐ Same room only

We play together, in the same
space

☐ Separate rooms

Okay to be in different rooms at same venue

☐ Solo dates allowed

Each partner can go on dates
alone

☐ Overnight stays

Okay to sleep at someone else's
place

☐ Emotional connections

Okay to develop feelings beyond
physical

☐ Recurring partners

Okay to see the same person
more than once

Each partner can go on dates
alone

☐ Overnight stays

Okay to sleep at someone else's
place

☐ Emotional connections

Okay to develop feelings beyond
physical

☐ Recurring partners

Okay to see the same person
more than once

Discussion Notes

Where did you agree? Where did you differ? What needs more conversation?

Write your thoughts, compromises, and anything you need to revisit...

Our Agreement

We've discussed our relationship style, communication level, and boundaries. We agree to revisit this worksheet whenever things change.

PARTNER A

Name & Date

PARTNER B

Name & Date

Remember: This is a living document. Your relationship will evolve — so should this worksheet.